

WE NEED TO KNOW RIGHT AND DO RIGHT

As important as it is to have the truth, it's even more important to obey the truth that we have. Failure to follow our conscience is not only a sin, but it is a worse sin than those we commit out of ignorance (Lk. 12:41-48). When what we do goes against what our conscience tells us we should be doing, that is a serious problem indeed.

The important principle of knowing and doing is emphasized in James: "But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his doing" (Jas. 1:22-25). And it is also in James that we read, "So whoever knows the right thing to do and fails to do it, for him it is sin" (Jas. 4:17).

There is an expression that says "talk is cheap." In a certain sense, that's true. It takes very little integrity to say the right things about what people should do. What is of more consequence is the determination of a person to go ahead and do what he should. When we fail to do God's will, we may plead that our sin is only that of neglect, but God looks upon neglect as a serious matter. Sins of "omission" may not seem to us as terrible as those of "commission," but if we end up being lost, it will be little comfort to know that the sins for which we lost our souls were "only" those of neglect.

We live in a society where the Bible and its contents are much discussed. Many people know many things about what God has said. But too few are doing anything about that, even among those who are members of the Lord's church. It's sobering to realize that those who know more are expected to do more. Jesus said, "Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required" (Lk. 12:48). This week let's meditate on the importance of obedience and determine that we're going to accept the responsibility that goes along with knowing what we know. God wants us not only to know the right thing but to do the right thing. If we seek God's blessings, let's remember: it's not the forgetful hearer but the doer of the work who'll be blessed in what he does! DP

BELIEVE THE GOSPEL

Foy E Wallace Jr. (Deceased)

Jesus Christ said, “Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved.” He that believeth—what? The Gospel. The idea that all one must believe in order to be baptized is the mere fact that Jesus is Christ did not originate with the Gospel. One may believe the fact that Jesus is Christ, and not believe the Gospel. “He that believeth (the gospel) and is baptized, shall be saved.” When a man believes that he is saved before he is baptized, he does not believe the Gospel, and he cannot be baptized, in any Scriptural, valid sense. When one is baptized into a denomination, knows that he is being baptized into one, no matter what he believes about baptism, it becomes an institutional act, a denominational baptism.

RIGHTLY DIVIDING THE WORD

Gus Nichols (Deceased).

Some time ago, a denominational preacher in our town started a religious broadcast on Saturday evenings. Within a few weeks he made a false accusation against the churches of Christ. He said, 'They deny the Old Testament scriptures and do not believe that the Old Testament is the word of God and inspired like the New Testament. They deny that the Old Testament is for us and that we are under the Old Testament law.' Friends, I want to say to you with all of my heart that we do believe the Old Testament, and that it is the word of God, and that it is inspired the same as the New Testament. And while we do not believe that we are under the laws which governed the people of the Old Testament, we believe that Testament is a part of God's word.

No one has the entire word of God if he has nothing but a New Testament. There are many Judaizers today. Some of them would have us burn incense and use instrumental music in our worship because it was used in Old Testament times. Other would have us practice circumcision, wear priestly robes, etc. Some would have us go back there for a plurality of wives, others for Saturday or Sabbath keeping, etc. But we are not under the old covenant, although it is true, and inspired of God. Every principle found back there which we practice as Christians is practiced now because it is a principle of the New Testament as well as of the Old Testament. God has changed his law, and we are not under that old law today. Paul says, 'The priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law. (Heb. 7:12)."
